A few important notes for this Method:

1.) Switch up using different social interactions. Do not use one interaction too much, as this will limit your results. Also, understand that Twitter places limits on how many people you can follow in a given period of time (As of 09/22/2014 - 2,000 follows). For this reason, use caution when using "Twitter Followers" on AddMeFast. Please do not abuse it. 2,000 follows in a small period of time is a lot, but I feel that it is only fair to warn you of this. Other social interactions are 100% safe, but it is always important to stay up to date on the latest terms of service agreements and rules of any social networks or websites that you are using. Please also remember not to use your main Twitter account as the host for social exchange interactions, but only as the target.

2.) Do not spam or post irrelevant or misleading content on any social network using this method. Spam isn't cool. If this method appears to be a "spamfarm" to you, I can nearly guarantee you have the wrong idea as well as wrong intentions of using this method. Once again, don't spam or violate any terms of service with any social network.

3.) Consider thinking outside the box in as many ways as possible for how you can improve this method for yourself! The most successful users of this method have been the ones who did the unexpected with it.
